DECISION REVERSED

Water Men Row On Soito Well; Hetchy

Climaxing a three-way verbal Donnybrook, directors of the Alameda County Water District last week temporarily reversed their recent decision to abandon a controversial well near Newark, and also agreed to forget the issue of converting the district to 100-percent use of Hetch-Hetchy water.

Director W. D. Patterson successfully reopened the subject of the Soito well, at Mayhews Landing and Haley Roads. This is the well three other directors voted to abandon one month ago when 23 neighboring farmers obtained an injunction against it.

Patterson and Engineer Thaddeus C. Binkley warned the Soito well abandonment might set a precedent which would open the door for farmers anywhere to halt district pumping, if they think it is depleting their private water supplies.

Patterson wanted the decision reconsidered until legal advice can be obtained from the district's new attorney, E. A. Quaresma.

Directors Louis Amaral, Manuel J. Bernardo and E. M. Grimmer previously had outvoted Patterson and Director Jack Prouty on the issue.

"You conceded defeat when you had the case won," Binkley charged. He was backed up with figures by Matt Whitfield Jr., general manager for the district, who contended the well didn't lower the farmers' water levels.

Amaral challenged Whitfield's figures, and Dr. Grimmer opposed any move which, he said "would lead to a fight over an old dry hole." He declared the district "has no business in there anyway."

Whitfield and Binkley exploded. Said Whitfield:

"You ought to rely on our information!"

Amaral replied he preferred to believe the farmers.

Binkley seconded Whitfield with the words:

"You refuse to accept engineering facts. We simply have no business abandoning the well!"

Finally Patterson's will prevailed and the board agreed to reconsider the abandonment un-

HINT COURT BATTLE

Conway & Culligan Surrender To District On Irvington Pipe Issue

Subdividers Conway & Culligan have agreed to a truce with the Alameda County Water District over the issue of who should pay for installation of underground mains in the 1200-home Irvington Square tract, south of Irvington.

Atty. E. F. Peck, for the developers, made the announcement that Conway & Culligan will install the $100,000 water system, then turn it over to the water district "under protest." He hinted the matter may be resolved in the courts.

Alameda County supervisors held a two-hour hearing last week to determine whether to modify a contract made by Conway & Culligan with the county, one provision being that the tract take water from the local district. Conway & Culligan had threatened to form their own water supplying district.

Wallace Knox, attorney for the water district, predicted that to allow Conway and Culligan to set up their own water supply and distribution system would set a precedent for other builders that would result in "nothing but chaos."

PROUTY RAPS 'PRIVATE DEALS' AS WATER BOARD APPOINTS LAWYER

Tempers flared among directors of the Alameda County Water District last week over appointment of an attorney for the district.

The ruckus started when Directors Manuel J. Bernardo nominated E. A. Quaresma of Niles, saying he had approached the lawyer and had been assured he would serve," regardless of fee."

Director Jack Prouty erupted at Bernardo, charging he opposes:

". . . not Judge Quaresma personally, but the policy of individual directors assuming to take on themselves private deals which get the Board in trouble."

Prouty pointed out that in June Judge Quaresma, Judge Allen G. Norris and retired attorney-for-the-district George Clark had been designated by the directors as a committee to pick Clark's successor.

W. D. Patterson, director for more than 40 years, joined Prouty in objecting to the manner of approaching Quaresma. He added there was no fee or duties stipulated for the job. He declared:

"We get experts to help us decide, then we upset them by sudden decisions."

However Chairman E. M. Grimmer was instructed to contact Quaresma regarding the appointment. Voting "yes" were Grimmer, Bernardo and Louis Amaral.

Today Quaresma said he is still "unable to comment" on the issue. A water district spokesmen said the matter of fee still is unresolved. Quaresma was quoted last week as saying he had been approached by two members of the board and by "an emissary" from a third regarding the job.

Prouty continued objecting, saying he would "be happy to see Judge Quaresma selected, but only in the manner agreed

2 TRACTS WOULD JOIN HAYWARD

Two huge tracts north of Hillview Crest this week were preparing to annex to the City of Hayward.

Oliver Rousseau, builder who recently purchased 198 acres just south of the Hayward golf course, said Tuesday night before the Hayward City Council he will ask that it be brought into the city.

And Treeview Homes, across the highway and slightly north of Hillview, also has started annexation proceedings. A hearing before the City Council is set for September 7.

Both tracts lie partly in Eden Township and partly in Washington Township. They will aggregate 1800 homes when complete.

Union Rejects Company Job Changes: Stops Work For Second Time In 8 Months

The big Pacific States Steel Corp. mill at Niles was idle this week for the second time in eight months, as CIO steelworkers picketed the plant in protest against a breakdown in contract negotiations.

Leon Curtis, president of Local 3367, USWA, said members last Saturday turned down a new contract offered by company management, and quit working Sunday morning. About 500 men are involved.

A company spokesman said the union negotiating committee had agreed to extend the contract past the July 31 expiration date in order to allow more time for negotiations. However, he added he was later told that a full membership refused to ratify the action of the committee.

Curtis charged management "wants to cut wages by having construction workers employed at maintenance rates," and that the company insisted on replacing unionists with non-unionists in several jobs.

The mill was subjected to another work stoppage last October when it tried to cut down the number of men employed in one rolling-mill because of alleged lack of work due to installation of modern machinery. This stoppage lasted 42 days.

Unaffected by either strike is the American Forge Co., next door to Pacific States. The forge firm has a contract with a different union.

Curtis said no further negotiations have been scheduled.

E. C. Thomas, plant superintendent, declared:

"We asked for a few changes in working conditions and job classifications to bring our operations into line with those of our competitors. We are seeking to establish more general work and less specialization."

The union originally had asked pay and working-condition raises aggregating 9½ cents per hour, as established recently under the Big Steel settlement. However Curtis said, the management counter-proposals came first, and the raises were not discussed.

Members of the negotiating committee, in addition to Curtis, include: Tom Pugmire, Al Nunn, Ray Secombe, Joe Campbell, Simon Dias, Joe Avila, Montford Kreuger, L. Armstrong, and Kenneth Stedman.

TOWNSHIP CC WILL SCAN 'NEW LOOK' PROGRAM SOON

First step to revitalize the Washington Township Chamber of Commerce was taken Monday night.

Directors voted to authorize presentation of a program of action at their next meeting, September 13. The program will be presented by Dan Irwin, Centerville, former chamber of commerce official in Plumas County.

The move followed closely recommendations made last week by a panel of three East Bay experts. They warned an aggressive, positive program must be adopted before members can be attracted.

Irwin is to select a committee to work with him on the program. He has headed such a committee for several months, but said Monday he had not wished to make recommendations "until we had an effective organization to carry them to fruition."

Irwin hinted he would have some recommendations about changing the chamber bylaws. The panel of "specialists", Dave Silverman, Roger Anderson and Phil Breck Jr., advised breaking with the tradition that directors be appointed by local chambers on a one-from-each-town basis.

Following presentation of the Irwin Committee report in September, directors expressed a wish to call in representatives of industry, business, agriculture and the general public, in an attempt to get a wide range of ideas on what the chamber should do for Township betterment. This, too, was suggested by the three "experts."

HIGH SCHOOL CALLS SECOND 50¢ TAX BALLOT IN OCTOBER

Washington Hi trustees decided Tuesday night they will call another election in October in a second try to get enough money to run the expanding school next year.

Acting on advice of Principal J. V. Goold, the board agreed unanimously to ask for a 50-cent tax boost. Last May, voters turned down a similar increase which would have put the district tax at $1.25.

"We have no alternative if we're going to run the school," said A. E. Alameda. Fellow-trustee E. M. Grimmer Jr. added the board "shouldn't hesitate a minute."

Goold stressed the tax is "permissive," meaning that if all the money isn't needed, all of the tax won't be levied. Said he:

"The people will have to trust the board and (me)."

Date of the balloting will be set shortly.

Meantime, trustees adopted their "austerity" budget for 1954-5, a total of $497,320. It will mean a tax of 82.2 cents per $100.

Goold explained that because of the failure of the May election, a number of teachers — including those originally slated for the new shops — cannot be hired.

Likewise approved was a construction program totalling approximately $214,000 for projects which had been deferred from the new annex. Architects Falk & Booth were ordered to prepare plans for:

1. A $34,000 cafeteria addition, or "snack bar".
2. Conversion of the home-making room into a classroom.
3. Remodeling of the boys gym. ($75,000).
4. Painting and remodeling present buildings — $35,000.
5. Site development, $35,000. Three out of nine new tennis courts were deleted.
6. Fees and miscellaneous expense: $24,850.

Money for the "second program" comes from the $1,500,000 bond issue voted two years ago. It will leave about $150,000 in the bond "kitty" after costs of the major work at the annex are complete.

CANNERY QUITS

Alaco Preserving Company, operating in Decoto since 1950, is going out of business, it was disclosed last week.

Seasonal processing of apricots, which had been scheduled to begin last week, was canceled. The cannery usually employed about 200 people during the summer and fall.

How To Throw Good Money After Bad

Robert Schirrmacher, 28, of Niles last week parlayed a $32 loss into an $82 one.

Schirrmacher reported to deputies two weeks ago he had been forced to the roadside near Decoto and relieved of $32 at gunpoint by two youths.

Later under questioning, he admitted losing the paycheck money playing poker in Hayward, then filing the false report to cover up at home.

Judge E. A. Quaresma last Friday upped Schirrmacher's loss by a $50 fine.

Fire broke out in the garage of the J. M. McGregor home on Mattos Drive on the evening of July 27. Mr. McGregor dropped a bottle of white gasoline, which went under the home freezer and was ignited by a spark from the motor. Mr. McGregor and son Gary, 5, narrowly escaped injury from the explosion and resultant fire. Neighbors immediately rushed to the rescue and had the fire under control by the time the fire department arrived. The McGregors believe that without their neighbors' help, the whole house might have burned. They are very grateful for this assistance and wish to take this means of thanking those whom they will be unable to thank personally.

As fires go, the damage is not considered extensive. However, the freezer is a total loss; knot-typine cabinets, asphalt tile, camping equipment, etc., all were damaged and the garage will have to be completely rebuilt . . . extensive enough! The car, fortunately, was pulled out of the garage in time.

Friends from Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. David Tittle, are spending a few weeks visiting with the Richard Weinbergs at their home on Glenview Drive.

Township Twirlers has been selected as the name for Centerville's new square-dance club. There are rumors going around, by the way, that Dorothy and Ronnie Griffith may start a new beginners' square-dance class in Centerville within the next month or two. So this may be the proper time, ladies, for you to begin the softening-up process on your husbands — just to make sure you'll be all "squared away" come enrollment night!

Sugar 'N Spice

SUZY SEZ...

Clever curtains can be made using beach towels, the prints are so attractive this year.

This is the season for one-hand driving. Only, now the "other" hand holds an ice-cream cone.

Left-over french toast is good if placed under the broiler with a slice of cheese on top.

There have been several recent cases of gasoline theft in the Centerville area. One lady reports thieves even cut some of her hose to do it. I'd suggest a locking gas-cap.

Some mothers should be ashamed of themselves for allowing children to play in the street from toddler-age on up. Your neglect can cost a life!

She'll soon learn. I mean the bride who irons everything, including socks and towels. When the first baby comes she'll stop!

My youngest was spellbound while I was talking to a Niles man recently. Turned out there was a ladybug on his coat collar.

This may be known as the year of the trailers, so many Townshippers are being visited by folks who bring their own housing with them.

If you'll always remember to iron plisse when it's dry, it will not lose its little bumps.

And then there's the Township woman (I won't tell you which town) who often gets one gallon of gas for her expensive car. Then her husband has to buy a tank-full to get home, and she doesn't have to buy it.

A Centerville woman says when she shows off her latest mobile, the folks who say "What is it?" are not as stunned as the ones who are speechless. I think it's attractive, in an odd sort of way.

Have you heard that Fathers Gilbert and Sullivan can be found at Newark's St. Edwards Church?

Bigger job than I'd want is washing one of those owner-driven semi-trucks and trailers. An automobile is bad enough.

I've checked and those bloody horror "comics" still are obtainable in every town in Washington Township. Church leaders, here's a project for you.

Lucky is the Niles man who convinced his wife that lawn-mowing is good for her figure.

Soon after a Centerville family moved, the neighbors noticed there was a marked decrease in the amount of orange peels, paper scraps, and junk scattered from one end of the block to the other.

An Irvington man is teaching his wife to drive and insists she park close to the curb each time. He never does.

My youngsters say they see the same rocks and trees in 'most every cowboy movie on T.V.

That was a narrow escape when a Newark grocery's plate glass window crashed to the sidewalk, just missing a passerby.

So long . . .

It's A Cinch To Hang Wallpaper Yourself

1. To figure length of first strip of paper, measure wall with yardstick. Place one end of yardstick as high as paper should reach (to molding or ceiling). Measure from ceiling to baseboard. Cut paper about eight inches longer than wall height to allow less chance of being caught short . . . and to give extra length to work with.

2. To get first strip of paper straight, use a plumb line. Measure one inch less than width of trimmed paper . . . to right of door. Rub chalk on string, tack it to wall near ceiling. Tie a spoon (or other weight) to end of string and let it drop toward floor. Snap chalked string against wall. Mark left by string will give a straight plumb line and assure getting first strip of paper straight.

3. Having measured and cut one strip, to get all paper strips to match, unroll wallpaper alongside the first cut strip . . . matching pattern exactly at the right hand side. Cut enough strips for one entire wall, always allowing more length (about eight inches) or as much as the repeat of the patten demands . . . and matching each strip with the preceding one.

4. Some wallpapers come prepasted. Dip them in water and they're ready for hanging. Some pastes are pre-mixed. (Your dealer will be glad to tell you about these short cuts.) If you prefer to mix your own paste, follow manufacturers' directions. Lay first cut strip of paper on a flat-surface. Apply paste evenly, almost sparingly, to the left hand surface working toward center of strip. Fold pasted end toward center without creasing.

5. You're ready to hang wallpaper. Apply the first cut strip to wall, lining up one edge with mark left by the plumb line. Smooth down the paper with smoothing brush (or with a sponge) starting from top and brushing downward. If the first strip doesn't look right, don't be afraid to take it down and put it up evenly. (If you have a small roller, use it to seal down, the edges of the paper.)

6. Put up next strip of paper, and the additional strips, in the order in which they are cut . . . sliding edges together closely. This is called "butting the edges" and gives a smart professional look to the wall.

Did you know that you can wallpaper an average room for as little as $10.00? And that there are wallpapers to suit everyone's taste and pocketbook?

You'll be in the good company of thousands upon thousands of American homemakers when you plan to be your own paperhanger. Wallpaper manufacturers are constantly improving the quality of their papers and simplifying their methods for you, the uninitiated . . . to hang paper.

And for a touch of magic . . . there are new and interesting designs now on the market that will lead your unsuspecting eye right out beyond the wall. These patterns give a 3-dimensional illusion. Some feature full-length French windows that are so realistic you feel you can look right through the shutters. Or, you might choose a pattern of sea shells hung on a string with slanting shadows so decided in effect that the shells seem to stand out on the wall. Other realistic patterns have the look of unframed prints that appear to be curling at the edges.

According to the Wallpaper Council, many people think of wallpaper only in terms of color, pattern and bright decoration. But it does much more. Wallpaper patterns hide dirt smudges, furniture marks, pitcure-hook holes, and do a good over-all job of covering older walls. Wallpaper has a way of minimizing architectural defects and of pulling-together a room that seems to be going in too many directions.

To estimate how much paper you will need, give your dealer the exact overall measurements of wall areas and the measurements of windows and doors as well. (Many dealers have small charts that give accurate measurements of how much paper is needed for almost any size room.

The sketches above will lead you every easy step of the way. You can't miss . . . and you'll have the fun of proudly looking at your beautiful walls, saying, "I did it all by myself, too."

City Government By Contract? Los Altos Finds It Efficient, Cheap

Peninsula Town Farms Out Services, Holds Taxes Down

(Local discussion of cityhood for Township or for individual towns recently turned to the "contract" form of government, whereby new cities hire the county, or private firms to handle many of the services normally performed by a city. Following are extracts from an article written by John M. R. Hope, administrative officer for the City of Los Altos, a community of 18,000 in Santa Clara County, which incorporated in December, 1952. Hope's findings are printed to answer some of the questions which have arisen regarding the "contract" type of city.)

"After nine months of operation, Los Altos had funds on hand . . . totaling over $90,000, and . . . a tax rate of 23½ cents per $100. The city's ability to provide service at such a low rate is due . . . in part to (contract) methods of operation.

"Los Altos' methods . . . are unique in the extent to which the city council has contracted for services, thus avoiding very substantial overhead costs, such as equipment outlays and depreciation, personnel benefits and plants required. At the same time, those with whom the city has (contracted) are specialists in their own fields. Los Altos is receiving more service and improvements for less cost by these methods:

"Assessment and Tax Collection: the council has contracted with Santa Clara County to perform the assessing and tax-collecting . . . the county receives one percent of the first $25,000 collected, and one fourth of one percent of all funds above that. The city expects $36,458 from the . . . assessed valuation of $15,831,050, which will cost us $278 to collect."

According to Hope, the city continues to use the existing Fire Protection District, relieving itself of the chore of running a fire department.

Health services, including a dogcatcher, are handled on contract with the county, and a neighboring city does the building inspection in return for 20 percent of all building fees, a more convenient setup which relieves builders of the necessity of travelling to the county seat.

Policemen, six of them, are hired by the city, but Los Altos contracts with Sunnyvale for the use of its jail. The county allows Los Altos to tie into its sheriff's radio, which dispatches the Los Altos officers between 5 p.m. and 8 a.m., making a police station radio or operator unnecessary. Highway Patrolmen guard the highway through town in return for allocation of 50 percent of the fines to the State.

Gas and oil are bought at government discount through a local service station, avoiding the expense and "evaporation" of city pumps. Continues Hope:

"We have contracted with a local general contractor . . . to do street patching for cost plus 10 percent. The work done is of superior quality and his men accomplish . . . 100 percent more work per day . . . a Santa Barbara firm does our traffic striping (at a cost of one-third of that performed by some cities.)"

"Local tree-surgeons do our tree removal and heavy trimming. They assume the liability. A private contract . . . provides janitorial service for City Hall. Some of our typing and clerical work is being done by private contract at a fixed amount per line. The city attorney is on a retainer fee, and his stenographic services are provided as above."

Public-spirited citizen groups see to recreation, and plan to build a swimming pool, on school property. Of revenues, $2400 in (State) liquor license funds were received in April; in June $70,000 was received from (State auto taxes), and $32,700 of (State) gas-tax revenues in July."

On the basis of a population of 18,000, Los Altos receives a total of $84,000 annually from State auto taxes and another $54,000 in gas tax. That $138,000 is three-fourths of the operating budget of $186,000. Local license fees bring about $27,000 more, and property taxes, $36,000, or only about 15 percent of the total budget.

Hope concludes:

"We are continuing to explore the possibilities of contracting for government services. City government by contract is feasible and economical!"

DEMOLAYS CONFER MORE DEGREES

DeMolay Club and Mothers Club met Monday in the Masonic Temple, Centerville.

The Mother's Club in addition to serving refreshments voted to make the chapter robes. Mrs. Jack Prouty, Mrs. Kieth Kimmel and Mrs. Les Cotter were named a committee to investigate purchase of material. At the next meeting it was decided by the Mothers to hold a Buffet Supper at 6:30 p.m. at which all mothers of the boys will bring food items and a charge of $1 will be made for the supper. The proceeds will be used to help purchase Chapter Robe material. All persons interested in helping to make this affair a success may contact Mrs. Don Metcalf at Niles 4615.

Hayward Area Chapter, Order of DeMolay conferred another 1st degree.

Dave Amaral, Larry and Kenneth Jenkins, Irvington, George Stout, Dave Hempleman and Don Ray Lunsford, Newark, Jerry Meyers and Richard Pennington, Centerville have affiliated with the club.

A baseball team is being organized and practicing for a game with Hayward Area Chapter in the near future.

Chapter Colors are blue and gold.

Don Metcalf and Jacob Koelsch are slated to take a group of members to the DeMolay Camp near Placerville August 29 to September 4.

$500,000 Awaits County Beach Plan

A half million dollars in State "matching" money awaits development of Alameda County's master plan for beaches and shore-parks, a county planning staff member told the Rotary Club here.

Sanford Farness, senior planner, said the cities now are developing their shoreline plans, and that the county is developing one for the unincorporated areas — which have 26 miles of shoreline.

When finished, the Planning Commission hopes to dovetail all the ideas into a single master plan to be submitted to the State. It now envisions a major beach-park near San Leandro.

Saying that water pollution no longer presents a serious problem here, Farness declared:

"The South Bay offers the finest in scenic and recreational possibilities."

COURAGE TO SEE CLEARLY

Three chamber of commerce experts gave the Township Chamber some plain-spoken advice last week, and we hope the local group follows it to the letter. Drastic measures certainly are necessary. We must cure an 18-month spell of dropsy on the part of the single organization which can provide guidance and leadership to make the road ahead smooth instead of bumpy.

Heart of the suggestions came from one of the "doctors", who warned the Township Chamber it "must face basic decisions," including study of incorporation, if anybody is going to have respect for it.

"Never mind if you lose a few members," he stressed. "Your membership should be only the people who have vision to see the Township develop as a whole."

Fear of treading on certain corns has been the force that has prevented the chamber from functioning. Isn't it shameful when outsiders have to tell us so?

DR. OLSON SUBS FOR DR. ANDERSON AS APPENDIX FLARES

Illness of a Niles physician this week brought a former Township medico here from Army duty to fill his shoes.

Dr. Conrad Anderson, associated with Dr. Lyle Buehler, collapsed last week with acute appendicitis. He was operated upon in Alameda by Dr. Buehler and his brother Dr. Merle Buehler, and is reported recovering satisfactorily today.

Dr. Albert Olson, on leave here from Army duty in Japan, will assist at Dr. Lyle Buehler's office until Dr. Anderson returns. Dr. Olson formerly was an associate in the office.

High School Vote

ported a proposed drainage ditch is jeopardizing a 30-acre site for a second high school on Cooks Road, south of Irvington. Logan explained 24 acres now is under option (at $3000 an acre) from Lloyd Bailey, and that the district wants to round out the site with another six acres, to the southwest.

However he said the Stanley Davis Organization, building homes to the north, wants to run the ditch between the 24 acres and the six acres, because it will cost them less money in that location than if they have to put it on the edge of the property.

Trustees were unanimous in agreeing the ditch should be relocated by county authorities, and that the entire 30-acre Bailey property should be purchased as soon as possible.

Logan said a title search should be completed within two weeks, and that the land then can be bought.

Water Directors Row Over Newark Well

til Quaresma renders a legal opinion. Pumping has been stopped at the site since June 7.

On the issue of using Hetch-Hetchy water exclusively, Dr. Grimmer and Amaral had previously stated it might be best to abandon all wells. The district now takes more than 80 percent of its water from wells, the balance from Hetch-Hetchy, which is owned by the City of San Francisco.

Binkley had been asked to report on the matter. Said he:

Hetch-Hetchy water would cost users about 42 cents per 100 cubic feet (approximately 750 gallons) compared to 30 cents for well water; or else taxes would have to be increased to about 38 cents per $100 compared to the present 26 cents.

Binkley said either course would prove "unpopular". He added:

"I want you to set a definite policy, not for a week, or just one meeting, but for several years so that we can make an intelligent plan for financing and establishing a new system."

He hinted broadly that a multi-million dollar water system bond issue will be necessary very soon to care for Township growth. The engineer added this might be split by area to bond regions first which develop fastest.

Dr. Grimmer commented he felt the matter of where the water came from is "a minor point now," and that a new pipe system and financing are more important.

During the discussion, Bernardo was challenged by Prouty, who called Grimmer's and Bernardo's policies "a weak program."

FREEWAY 'LINK' PLEA TO BE MADE IN SACRAMENTO

Township representatives will travel to Sacramento on August 27 to lay their plea for completion of the Eastshore Freeway before the State Highway Commission.

The project already has top priority from the Alameda County Highway Advisory Committee.

The 14-mile stretch between Warm Springs and Mt. Eden has been termed "vital" to township growth by almost every local agency.

Heading a Township Chamber of Commerce Committee on completion of the Freeway is Stuart Nixon, Niles. The Niles chamber also has designated a completion committee, which includes Nixon, Dr. T. C. Wilson, and Elmer Marks.

Travelers Aid Society, a United Crusade service, has helped people on the move for more than 100 years, and for 40 years in Alameda County.

World's Largest Crop of Dwarf Citrus Thrives In Sunny Mission San Jose

Hal Tibbetts, Once Berkeley Park Boss, In New Role

By STUART NIXON

They're brewing up a midget revolution in the orange business in historic Mission San Jose.

Behind the revolution lies the belief of a Ventura nurseryman that orange, lemon and grapefruit trees don't have to be giants to produce good fruit and plenty of it.

The nurseryman, Floyd C. Dillon, is being aided in his revolt against bigness by Hal Tibbetts, former superintendent of Berkeley's park system, who came to Mission San Jose to retire a couple of years back. Now Tibbetts finds himself busier than he's ever been.

Between Dillon and Tibbetts, they already have the world's largest collection of dwarf citrus trees growing in the lush sunshine of frost-free Mission San Jose.

Franciscan fathers found they could grow lemons and other delicate subtropical fruit in Mission San Jose shortly after the old Mission was founded in 1797. A few landowners, notably Governor Leland Stanford's brother Josiah, and Don Juan de Gallegos, later grew citrus here commercially, though on a small scale.

Dillon's son Don says his father found out about the Mission "thermal belt" by reading scientific articles which described how subtropical fruit flourished there.

So last year, the senior Dillon decided it would be the ideal location in which to nurture a new variety of citrus which he was just bringing into bearing at Piru, near Ventura.

He knew of Tibbetts, and enlisted his aid.

Tibbetts ran a tiny nursery, more for his own pleasure than for a commercial venture. But he agreed to help.

Soon from Piru came hundreds upon hundreds of cans full of the new fruit trees. They looked exactly like any other orange or lemon seedling. But there was a difference.

Where a normal orange tree shoots up two dozen feet high, with broad green skirts equally wide, the Dillon variety stopped growing at eight feet, or less. Nevertheless, in tests conducted over several years' time around Southern Californit, Dillon's trees were found to bear from two-thirds to three-quarters as much fruit as their grown-up cousins, and it was of better quality.

CITRUS DWARFS—Hal Tibbetts, Mission San Jose nurseryman, holds potted one-year-old dwarf tangerine while Don Dillon, whose father developed dwarf citrus trees, shows stunted fruit on bushy dwarf rootstock tree imported from Orient. Tibbetts' daughter, Mary, 16, is at right.

Don Dillon says the little trees are a culmination of years of grafting normal stock onto dwarf rootstock, thorny small-leafed treelets which come from the Orient, Cuba, South America, and which bear tiny, stunted fruit no bigger than walnuts. It took a long time to get the right combination, but when Dillon senior got it, he was certain he could produce a tree which would allow growers to plant four times as many orange-factories to the acre, with a yield of two to three times as much fruit.

In addition, advantage of the stubby trees would be that growers would need no ladders, less insurance, and fewer pickers to harvest their crop, since a tall man can reach the topmost branch of the dwarf trees just by stretching.

In 1909, nursery scientists developed a successful dwarf lemon, the Meyer. This lemon is used principally for ornamental purposes. No orange or grapefruit had been developed to parallel the Meyer lemon's success . . . not until Dillon's experiments, that is.

Don Dillon admits it may be years before the Dillon Dwarfs are used in commercial citrus groves. "Just like any other farmers, citrus growers are slow to change," he says.

Meantime, however, the little trees are proving phenomenally popular with California home owners who would like an orange tree for their porch or patio, but who don't want a Frankenstein monster to take over their GI estate.

The dwarfs aren't cheap. A 2-or-3-year-old Valencia or Robertson Navel retails here for around $9. However they are rugged and seem to thrive in the Mission San Jose sunshine. Quite a few tract-home owners have bought them, Tibbetts says.

The dwarf trees come in kumquat, tangerine and Mexican lime varieties, too, as well as a tangor (tangerine-orange hybrid) recently developed.

Like any other citrus, they like sun, water and freedom from frost and wind. Mission San Jose supplies all four conditions. Pure Sierra water from the Hetch-Hetchy pipeline which runs through the town provides water free from chemicals which burn the delicate citrus leaves.

It takes 15 years for the dwarf trees to mature. By then, Dillon and Tibbets expect them to be a familiar part of the Bay Area scene.

Carolyn Nobles, Gordon Agrella Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lombardo of Newark recently announced the engagement of their daughter, Carolyn Nobles, to Gordon Agrella, son of Mr. and Mrs. Brad Agrella, Palm Avenue, Mission San Jose.

The affianced pair graduated from Washington High School with the class of '54. Gordon Agrella is employed at the L. A. Young Spring and Wire Corporation in San Leandro.

The FARMERS CORNER

by Allen F. Mather

Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California

WATER POLICY

The Agricultural Council of California, at its recent annual meeting, received a report from its Water Committee which should be required reading for every Californian. Among other things, 11 elements of a sound water policy were proposed by the Committee and adopted as official Council policy. Due to the increasing interest in finding proper solutions to the many problems involved in necessary development of our water resources, these 11 points are here reproduced in full.

"1. The waters of the State of California are declared by law to belong to the people of the State. Any water plan should contemplate the eventual development and use of all available water resources on which the future life and development of the State depend.

"2. State law also provides that title to the beneficial use of water rests with the users and is appurtenant to the land on which it is used. In other words, water rights belong with the land on which they are beneficially used, when such rights are acquired in accordance with law. Only thus will the land resources of the State be developed most fully and effectively.

EQUAL TREATMENT

"3. California water laws relating to the acquisition, control, use, and distribution of water should apply alike to all, including agencies of government, whether local, state, or federal.

"(This is based on current claims of the Federal Government to paramount rights in and to the waters of the Santa Margarita River, regardless of prior established rights of others under California water law.)

"4. Projects for the development and distribution of water resources should be owned and operated locally in so far as practicable, the control being exercised wherever possible by the users of the facilities. Where such is not feasible at the beginning, contracts with larger (outside) agencies should provide that as the users pay for the project costs ownership should revert to the users.

WATER AND POWER

"5. Water is a primary resource of the State. Its efficient use and low cost storage and distribution should be given primary consideration. Power, as a by-product of water, should be so developed and marketed as to contribute as much as possible to the complete development of the water resources. Starting with the most economical projects, profits from the sale of power should be used to develop projects which, though less economic, are essential to the ultimate development of the full water resources of the State.

"(This is based on the fact, developed by the State Division of Water Resources, that only if the State's water resources are developed to the fullest possible extent will there be enough water available to meet requirements for its full agricultural, industrial, and population development.)

"6. Where consistent with an over-all water resource development plan, power development should help to reduce the cost of the water.

"7. First rights for water should be reserved for the ultimate reasonable needs of the areas of origin where it can be beneficially and most economically used.

NONPOLITICAL

"8. Plans should be set up in such a way as to keep project operation and control as nearly nonpolitical as possible.

"9. Administration of water resources must not become a political tool to secure political power.

"10. Judicial functions of State agencies, in settling issues of water rights, must not become intermixed with programming and operational functions.

"11. Legal functions in the water field are so extremely important to the life of California that the State's water agencies should be free to exercise their legal functions by their own legal staff independently of the Attorney General. Checks and balances in this field are most essential."

Upon these principles, we can build a superstructure of water projects to satisfy the demands of our expanding population, our mounting industry, and our productive agriculture.

D. M. Silvas Home After Azores Trip

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Silva of Mission Road, Irvington; and their son Higino returned this week from 18 months in the Azores and Portugal.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Silva, who formerly operated a grocery in Irvington, spent pleasant hours visiting with their respective mothers, 82 years old. Most of the trip was spent on the Island of Graciosa, where the Silvas own a home.

Higino, a Washington Hi graduate, plans to enter San Jose State.

Worried About That Bulging Waistline?

If you love to eat... if you're on vacation and all foods look twice as good as usual... if the pounds are beginning to pile on and your zippers no longer zip as they used to ... if you hate the thought of facing your friends back home with those added ugly bulges... then this is a special note to you.

Of course it's something to do with dieting. But it's such an easy way to diet it won't interfere with your vacation fun. The aim is not to eliminate any foods you like, but to eat something of everything in small quantities. And at the same time, here's a little trick you can use to keep from getting hungry, so that you can stick to your diet:

Just nibble on some sugar-containing foods or beverages between or before meals. What will this do for you? It will raise your blood sugar level and curb your appetite.

New medical research findings at Harvard University's School of Public Health, you see, have documented the simple fact that healthy people get hungry when their blood sugar level is low. Sugar raises the blood sugar level faster than any other food, so to keep from overeating, eat or drink the good foods and beverages that contain sugar.

A sensible, workable reducing diet—one that doesn't set you apart from others at mealtime—must include all of the basic foods needed for a balanced diet. But you simply don't eat as much of each—thanks to sugar beforehand.

Thus, a mid-morning snack like the one pictured above—sugared coffee and a wafer or two—can prove to be your hunger control as well as a wonderful source of quick energy. This may surprise you, but a teaspoonful of sugar, which can help you cut out so many extra calories, itself contains only 18 calories!

This Week's Question: It has been estimated that the Ford plant in Milpitas will bring 42,-000 people to that area. What can we do in Washington Township to bring some of them, (and their pay checks) here?

"I think we should build more houses. It's only logical that they come here when there are homes being built here." Mrs. Frank Mantua, R.F.D. Box 233, Newark.

"You have to build up your businesses to attract them. Make good shopping and recreation centers and they'll come here." James Spence, 740 Cherry Road, Newark.

"Homes, mainly, I'd say would attract them." Mrs. Doris McCall, 465 Evans, Centerville.

"I think low-cost housing would bring them. I notice the towns that have the low-cost houses are growing." Alex Durazo, P.O. Box 58, Warm Springs.

"Build some new stores." Mrs. Delinda Pimentel, R.F.D. Box 141, Newark.

"I think what they need is a ping center." Richard DelFiornice department store and shop-entine, 168 Thornton Avenue, Centerville.

"Plan our communities so that we will attract both industry and residences." Ernest Vayssie, Acting Postmaster, Irvington.

"We need more business, shops and a moving picture house for Newark." Mrs. Marie Wright, 621 Elm Street, Newark.

"We should get larger shopping and parking areas. We have the only higher-priced housing developments, and it seems to me many will be looking for the $15,000 homes here." Rev. Tom Fuhr, 129 North Main, Centerville.

"I don't think we have to do very much, it's so close." Mrs. Isabel Banning, 2568 Zulmida Street, Newark.

"I think probably the Freeway would do more than anything. If the Freeway is here the housing would come automatically." Henry DeVries, 324 Glenmoor Drive, Centerville.

"Something in the line of a freeway or a highway would be nice. We are going to need something like that if we are going to continue to build." Mrs. Gilbert Croskrey, 877 Jennifer Street, Newark.

Kids' Day Set By Newark Kiwanis

Kids' Day, sponsored by Kiwanis International, will be celebrated Saturday, September 25 in Newark and in hundreds of other communities throughout the United States, Canada, Alaska and Hawaii using the theme — "Build For Tomorrow".

Gordon B. Cotton, President of the Kiwanis Club, said that although this is the sixth annual observance of Kids' Day, it is the first year of sponsorship exclusively by Kiwanis International and its member clubs throughout North America.

"Preliminary plans for local activity are now being formulated by the committee in charge" Cotton said.

He named Gene Carroll and Jack MacGregor as co-chairmen and Dr. John O'Connor, Paul Driggs, George Latham, Frank Gygax, Ken Foster, Ray Auchard, Charles Snow, Dallas Paul, Warren Osborne and Bob Lloyd as members of the committee under whose direction the activity will be carried out even though all members of the Kiwanis club will share in the project.

Cotton pointed out that youth work has been a major aim of Kiwanis International throughout the thirty-nine years of its existence.

Last year more than 1,200,000 children were entertained on Kids' Day and Kiwanis clubs raised more than $800,000 for their youth service work. Cotton stressed that these funds are retained in the communities where they are collected and are used entirely in local youth projects.

He pointed to the Newark Kiwanis club's sponsorship of Explorer Scout Post No. 1, sending a boy to summer camp, providing a campership to a Girl Scout, presenting achievement awards to the outstanding boy and girl graduates from grammar school, and a similar agriculture award to a high school graduate outstanding in that field, being Santa Claus to three orphans at Christmas, co-sponsoring with the Recreation District and furnishing prizes and awards for such youth activities as the Kite Contest, Pet and Bike Parade and Little League baseball. These show how Kiwanis uses locally collected funds to benefit the entire community, Cotton stressed.

Dutra was born in Newark, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Dutra, who farmed nearby.

A graduate of California Polytechnic, he recently was awarded a civil engineer's degree through advanced study.

Dutra's staff includes Leonard Dondero, Willis Simpson, Ed Devan, Clyde Hewitt, Louis Rapp, Paul Sweeney, Joe Milani, and Roy Towers, chief engineer.

COUNTY'S SCHOOLS WILL HANDLE 5072 MORE THIS FALL

When school opens again in September, school districts in Alameda county must be ready to accomodate 5072 more students than enrolled in the fall of 1953.

This was predicted today by Dr. Vaughn D. Seidel, county schools superintendent, who said that an estimated 132,881 students will enroll in kindergarten through high school next fall. Enrollment in all districts last October was 127,809 students.

"A study of enrollment trends in the county over the past five years indicates that we can expect a 25 percent further increase in enrollment by 1958," Dr. Seidel said. "By 1958, the districts will need to provide facilities for a school population of 159,949 pupils, or 32,140 more than attended during 1953-54.

"Junior college enrollment is not included in these figures since Oakland Junior College, the only one in the county, has not been in operation long enough for a trend to be studied, and consequently no projection can be made.

"Analysis of birth records for the past five-year period and of their relation to subsequent kindergarten and first grade enrollment shows that for the next two years there will be a decrease in kindergarten and first-grade enrollment, but that these enrollments will again take an upturn in 1957 and 1958."

CAROLLING AROUND NEWARK

JEANNE & GENE CARROLL
NEWARK 3-3564

AROUND TOWN — There are rumblings in the Township again as the "incorporation express" has been put back on the track around Centerville. Everyone interested in the growth and welfare of the Township, as a Township and as separate communities, must get aboard the train and ride along so the express won't get derailed because of too heavy a hand upon the throttle.

It has been interesting watching developments in the unincorporated areas to the north. Apparently there will be no escape for our area from this "incorporation fever". Differences of opinion will run rampant before any decision is reached as town leaders seek to protect unofficial boundaries or go all-out with "City of Washington".

Regardless of where your present sentiments point, this issue will furnish subject for debate in homes, clubs and street corners as well as in civic organizations. This debate is certain to influence your sentiments, so keep a sharp ear to the rail and listen as the rumble draws near.

We visited the 49'er training camp at Menlo College last week to get a pre-season looksee at our favorite football team and came away feeling more optimistic than ever over the chances for a championship this year.

Joe "Jet" Perry and "Hurrying" Hugh McElhenny were showing the zip that has made them the most feared one-two punch in pro football and Joe Arenas did not act like a man who intends to give up his coveted left-half starting post to the heralded John Henry Johnson without a fight. When all the backs are in good health, it won't be surprising to find Arenas and Johnson alterating as offensive and defensive backs, because both are adept in each department of play.

Y. A. Tittle is the key to the championship as it is his field generalship and powerful throwing to such great receivers as Soltau, Wilson, Babcock and McElhenny that will spring the 49'ers running attack. Hume leaves something to be desired as a second-string quarterback and Cason obviously is inexperienced at the position but he may prove adequate if Coach Shaw can give him some game experience during the practice games.

Personally we are champing at the bit, waiting for the season to get underway. We have a date in Kezar on September 5 when the 49'ers and Cleveland Browns tangle in a renewal of their old feud and we are looking for Tittle and Co. to get revenge for the 23-21 loss in Cleveland last year that cost them their chance for a playoff.

All this football fever doesn't interfere with our baseball interest as long as those sassy Seal kiddies stay in front of the old Oaks . . . which is as it should be.

Have you called in your reservation for the big chicken & corn-on-the-cob barbecue at the Franklin Brown home on Lincoln Road this Saturday? The Women's Societies of the Presbyterian Church are using the proceeds from this summer barbecue for their Calvin Hall fund. Servings will be between 5:30 and 7:30 with the charge being $1.75 for adults and 80 cents for children. You still have time to get that reservation in by calling Mrs. R. O. Grace, Newark 3-3722 or Mrs. L. C. Serafino, Newark 3-3838.

We hear that Dewayne Potts is working in Yakima, Washington for the summer. He went north to visit and stayed when he found work available.

July 23 was certainly a big day for Linda Serafino as she celebrated her fourth birthday in the afternoon with a group of her young pals joining in the games and refreshments. Her guests included: Christine Scarborough, Marta McGinnis, Cassia Short, David and Cheryl Woodward, Marilyn and Millicent Ferry, Jim Slater and her sister Pat. The evening found her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Sudbury, Cpl. and Mrs. Billy Sudbury, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Slater, Yvonne and Gary Sudbury, Beverly and Jim Slater, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carpenter and her uncle Hershel Nunn of Pauls Valley, Oklahoma (who has been here visiting the Carpenters) coming in to pay their respects.

John Dowd of Gazelle, California, enjoyed a week vacation staying with his daughter and family, Lewis and Inez Silva and children Ronnie and Linnez. The Silvas have closed their bike shop on Sycamore Street and should be ready to take care of their customers in their new shop behind their home at Thornton and Cherry.

Mrs. Pearl Pacquin enjoyed a visit with her daughter and family, Fred and Mildred Armstrong, Lillian, Marilyn and Evelyn. She shared birthday cake with her granddaughter, Evelyn as they celebrated one day apart during her stay.

Mrs. Clifford Pool was hostess to the Betty Peffers Circle members for a backyard weenie roast which preceeded its regular business meeting recently.

The streets between Cherry Road and Magnolia were busy last Sunday as Tony and Mary Souza and the Gene Carrolls, jointly and separately enjoyed the company of mutual friends from the valley. Kenneth and Arlene Rocha of Crows Landing and Joaquin and Marianne Rocha of Turlock came up to see how us "city dwellers" were getting along.

Howard and Beatrice McDaniel welcomed a baby girl, Linda Belle, into their family on July 23. Linda Belle weighed six pounds twelve ounces when she arrived at the Decoto Medical Center. She will be helping her big brother Gerald celebrate his first birthday in August.

Joe and Wanda Miranda, Gail and Judy recently enjoyed a variety of vacations as they split theirs between Reno and Lake Tahoe where they enjoyed a few days before leaving for Los Angeles and a visit with Wanda's sister and her husband, Beatrice and Marvin "Chick" Waggoner. From there it was easy to enjoy sightseeing and pleasant days at Hermosa Beach and Huntington Beach.

Glen and Lenora McDaniel, son David, Mrs. Frances McDaniel and children Rose and Lee had a wonderful vacation trip touching fourteen states and Canada. Mrs. Bonnie Potts accompanied them as far as Shamrock, Oklahoma where she stayed two weeks visiting relatives while the others continued on through Detroit into Windsor, Canada. Their itinerary lead them through the Kentucky blue-grass to Guthrie and to Hickory Point, Tennessee where they visited Glen's relatives. In another car, but on practically the same course at the same time (excluding Canada) were Mr. and Mrs. T. C. McDaniel and children Barbara and Leo, who got into the family reunions at Hickory Point and Guthrie.

Mickey Kommas, 16, flew by TWA to Illinois where she enjoyed a pleasant visit with Grandmother Wright and her aunt Mrs. Elsie Emby and family in Aurora, Illinois. Quite a thrill for a young gal to travel by air alone.

Let's get our carroll-o-grams on the wire carrying shortie happy birthday greetings . . . to, by golly this first one is a twin-o-gram and the duplicate greetings go to Doyle and Darrell Correia as they became "draft registering" age on July 26 . . . to Janice Barks as she celebrated her fifteenth on Wednesday, July 28 . . . to Brian O'Connor who will be happy tomorrow as he gets treats on his seventh birthday . . . to Tommy Binder who won't be forgotten on Saturday as that is his first birthday and we know he loves ice cream . . . to Jack Slater who will count off another year on Saturday too. . .

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence LeCount hosted a birthday dinner last Saturday in honor of their daughter, Marilyn Bernard and their granddaughter, Stephanie Garcia, 3, who had their big days on the 31st and 30th respectively. Enjoying the party were the Joe Garcias, George Alex Bernards.
Pagans, Luther Hudsons and

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Brannon, son Junior, daughter Doris and Gaye Carroll enjoyed themselves at the P.G. & E. company picnic at Half Moon Bay last Sunday.

John and Opal Ruskofsky and daughters, Joan and Judy and their friend Raedell Walsh of Santa Cruz enjoyed two wonderful weeks in Trinity Alps at Forest Glen, where the mountain air renewed their vim and vigor for another year down here in the flatlands.

The Buford Barks' have been entertaining Gina's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Michael, Sharon and Buddy, from Malden, Missouri. The Michaels plan to stay here (they are looking for a rental) and as a starter for work Lonnie is working for Buford at the Shell station which Buford recently purchased in Decoto.

Rowena Harrison has left on her three-week vacation trip. She traveled by Santa Fe to Woodward, Oklahoma where she will be visiting with her uncle and aunt, Lee and Zelpha Booth as well as other relatives and will get into Missouri for a few days before returning home.

Cpl. C. E. Harrison Jr. left last Thursday in his shiny new '54 car bound for Fort Lewis, Washington and ten more months service in the Quartermaster Corps.

H. J. and Mary McDermott, Butch, Maryann, Georgie and their dog Cutie went back to nature with a little overnight camping out last week at Sunset Beach near Santa Cruz and visited Seacliff and Big Basin.

Shirley Rice and children Shelby and Craig enjoyed their eight day vacation sunning themselves on the beach at Santa Cruz.

The James Collins family tried a transfusion of mountain life to rekindle their energy. Two weeks at Pincrest was just the right medicine.

Joe and Clara Faria, Lionel, Richard, Patsy and Veronica had a midweek vacation at Martin's Beach, Half Moon Bay until the fog drove them home, but not before they did some fishing.

Louie and Hazel Caldeira entertained with a Sunday evening barbecue at their home. Nothing can sharpen the appetite quicker than the aroma and sight of a barbecue dinner and finding "Chef" Louie in good form were: Dr. and Mrs. Robert R. Root, Livermore; Mr. and Mrs. J. Clark of Sonora, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Butler of Livermore and Gene and Loretta Mendes with their children Rene Jean and Gene Barry.

Frank and Annie Nunes, Pearl Ann, Michael, Carolyn and Cathy and Mrs. Pearl Johnson enjoyed a week camping at Big Sur.

Tony and Mary Maciel and two of their youngsters, Linda and Michael have returned from a happy vacation at Mt. Lassen. Camping out must be quite a life . . . it seems to agree with everyone.

'7-Year Itch' Comedy Playing At Geary

The comedy about a fancy-free husband who goes off the beaten path while his wife is in the country, "The Seven Year Itch," is now at the Geary Theatre in San Francisco.

This is the company starring Eddie Bracken and which played all winter in Chicago. The show opened in New York in November, 1952.

Courtney Burr, in town for the local premiere, and Elliott Nugent are the producers. Other than Bracken, top players are Louise King, Howard Freeman, Lydia Clarke and Edward Hunt. The "dream girls" are Scotty MacGregor, Nadia Paris, Joan Watson and Mary Warren.

Performances are nightly except Sunday at 8:30. Matinees are Wednesdays and Saturdays at 2:30.

Decoto Wants Own Recreation Setup

Decoto clubmen and women showed strongly last week they would prefer a local, school-operated recreation program rather than the proposed Township-wide recreation district.

Voting without dissent, members of the Federated Clubs agreed to petition the school trustees on August 11 for "a more extensive" recreation program.

Speaking against the Township district and for the local school plan were Mrs. Stella Caldeira, of the Decoto Youth Center; and Stanton McLeod.

Mrs. Caldeira demanded to know why it would be necessary to pay "20 cents per $100 taxes" for the Township plan, when Decoto schools could handle the job for 5 cents.

Manuel Hidalgo, temporary chairman of the club organization, predicted a Township district could win at the polls, bringing Decoto into the district in spite of itself.

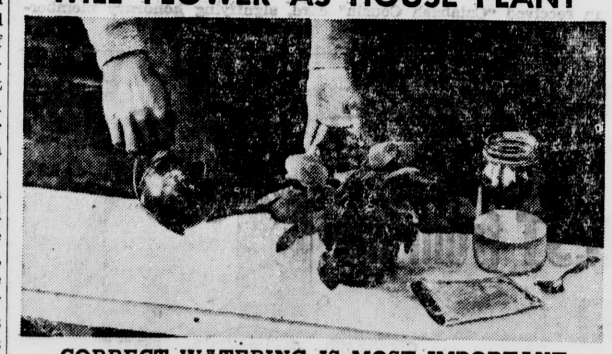
WITH CARE, AFRICAN VIOLETS WILL FLOWER AS HOUSE PLANT



CORRECT WATERING IS MOST IMPORTANT ... but direct sunlight harms African violet

By WALTER SWARTZ
Executive Secretary
Southern California Floral Association

The African Violet (Saintpaulia) is becoming an increasingly popular house plant. It gets its name from its native tropical Africa and the similarity to our violet. With reasonable care, it should flower abundantly.

For best results, it should be placed near a window with eastern or northern exposures and in a room with a temperature comfortable for normal living. It should be noted that direct sunlight is harmful to this flower.

Although the plant should be watered thoroughly, most of the soil moisture should be used up before it is irrigated again. Some specialists prefer sub-irrigation, but they all agree that for best results, the water should be at room temperature.

Soil for repotting should be of similar texture as that in the container purchased from your florist or nurseryman. It should be loose and porous — and an application of a soil conditioner such as Krilium will be helpful.

Also, periodic applications of a good fertilizer won't hurt any. Liquid fertilizers are especially convenient for house plant applications and should be used as directed on the package or wrapper.

Another hint: to assure maximum bloom, thin the excess foliage from the center, or crown, of the plant. This is guaranteed to aid flower reproduction.

Timely Thoughts on Traffic Toll

Vacation time is here again. That means millions of Americans will soon be piling in the family car and taking off for a motor trip. Automobile accidents resulting from these pleasure jaunts killed 38,300 people last year—and almost half of the deaths occurred on weekends. Another 1,350,000 were injured.

To avoid a similar toll this year safety experts are advocating the following automobile safety rules. Memorize them—they may save your life:

(1) Never drive after drinking —and don't drink alcoholic beverages if you plan to drive.

(2) Don't pass on hills or curves —and never cut in sharply.

(3) On long trips be sure to "take a break" every two or three hours. A stop for coffee or some similar beverage keeps reflex action at a peak.

(4) Never get closer than 90 to 100 feet behind the car ahead of you. The military uses one yard per mile per hour as a standard. It's a good rule. If you're going 50 mph stay 50 yards behind the car in front.

(5) Don't try to keep up with the speed limit—make it a habit never to drive too fast for highway conditions, no matter what the speed limit is.

(6) Don't cross intersections unless you're sure you have the right of way. And don't insist on the right of way. It's often safer to let the other fellow have it, whether he is entitled to it or not.

(7) Don't drive if you are at all drowsy or sleepy. Pull off the road and have a cup of coffee and rest a bit. Better arrive late than not at all.

WESTVACO WINS SAFETY TROPHY

Food Machinery & Chemical Corporation presented the Presidential Safety Award to its Westvaco Mineral Products Division plant at Newark on July 15.

The award recognized the plant's lowest accident frequency rate achieved during 1953 in competition with all other chemical manufacturing plants of comparable size within the parent corporation.

Paul L. Davies, President of Food Machinery & Chemical Corporation accompanied the award with a congratulatory letter to the employees of the Newark plant:

"Your extremely impressive safety record for 1953 — the best of all chemical plants of the corporation of comparable size — is one for which each and every one of you should rightfully take great pride. One lost-time accident for almost 700,000 man hours of exposure leaves little to be desired to accomplish a perfect record.

"We here in San Jose also take great pride in your record and wish to add our congratulations. I have noted with pleasure your receipt of the National Safety Council's "Certificate of Achievement For Greatest Percentage Reduction in Frequency Rate" for plants of your class. Well done for the year 1953 and best wishes for continued safe and healthy operations for the future."

In a ceremony held at the plant, R. F. Moran, Resident Manager of the plant accepted the award on behalf of the employees from W. R. Philbrook, Industrial Relations Director of the Food Machinery & Chemical Corporation.

Earlier this year the plant was awarded the National Safety Council certificate for the greatest improvement in accident frequency in competition with more than fifty other plants of its class throughout the country.

At the present time the plant continues its excellent safety record, having operated well over 300 days without a lost-time accident. This period of accident-free operation surpasses a record established in 1953.

They attended "The King and I", and "Peter Pan", starring Mary Martin, and pronounced both excellent, especially the ballet on Uncle Tom's Cabin, Siamese style, in "The King and I".

Law Suspicious, Suspect Nabbed

It pays to be suspicious, Deputy Sheriff E. D. Chambers decided last week.

On patrol in Centerville, Chambers spotted a suspicious-looking man walking down Main Street.

Picked up for questioning, the suspect proved to be Frank Mesnard, 45, wanted for burglary in Davis.

Mesnard was returned to Davis for trial.

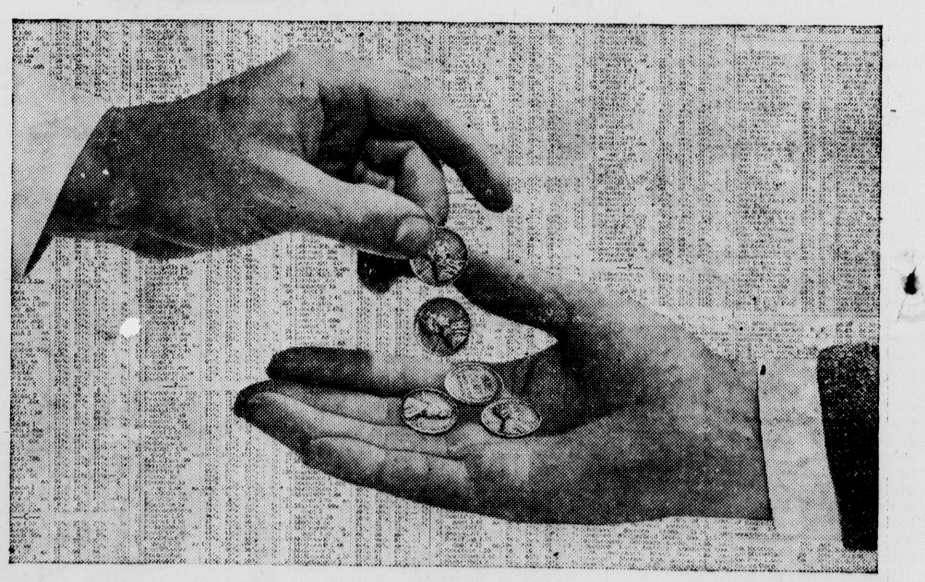
We Sell the Best and Service the Rest — 2709 Thornton Ave., Newark — Ask About Our Credit Plan

How much are Standard's owners paid?

75 years ago one of the companies from which Standard Oil Company of California grew was formed by five men. In those days smaller communities and simpler needs could be served by concerns owned by one man or a small group. They furnished all the money—they kept all the profit, too. But the West grew tremendously, and we've grown up with the West.



Today, no one man could pay for all the oil fields, refineries, and other equipment Standard needs to serve you well. These investments are shared among Standard's 112,000 owners. About 97% of these shareholders are private individuals like you—including 12,000 Standard employees, our largest single group of owners. In addition, 293 schools and universities are owners of Standard, along with 224 churches and religious organizations, 165 hospitals and medical groups, and 1889 small and large businesses. These are our sole proprietors—we are neither owned nor controlled by any of the Standard companies in the East. Like the proprietors of any company, these shareholders receive the profits from their business. Each dollar they have in Standard is currently earning approximately 10¢ a year. Only about 5¢ of this is paid to them in cash. The remainder is plowed back into the business to bring you even better products and services . . . to stay ahead of competition. By planning ahead this way, Standard grows with the West, keeps pace with your needs.
